PAUL AND EVA MORRIS ARE NAMED GRAND MARSHALS FOR PORTERVILLE RODEO PARADE, SATURDAY, MAY 6

PORTERVILLE - Two grand marshals will ride in the Western parade that will kick off Porterville's rodeo weekend, May 6 - Paul and Eva Morris, Quarter horse breeders and cattle raisers in the California Hot Springs country, and residents of the Porterville area for more than a half century.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris own and live on a 1,300-acre spread in the foothills southeast of Porterville. They have a commercial cow and calf operation and run about 50 head of sheep for wool and lamb production, but their real love, and the work they have concentrated on in recent years, is the breeding of Quarter horses.

In 1950 they bought their first registered Quarter horse, "Easter Mark," from Ralph Tyrrell, of Terra Bella, but their actual breeding program started in 1954 when they purchased an excellent young stallion, "Coaster," from Bob Burnquist, of Shafter, and three mares from Ralph Bell, of Visalia.

Most of the 25-30 head of mares, yearlings and colts that the Morris's keep on the ranch are by Coaster, and his get have been top winners in show rings and performance classes throughout the western states.

This year a new stallion was purchased for breeding to Coaster mares, "Cuellar's Pet," by Cuellar, by King, from the Black Hawk ranch at Danville. This stud is a trained cutting horse, has a quiet disposition and the well-proportioned conformation of the working Quarter horse.

Although there is running blood on one side of some of the Morris ranch brood mares, the Morris's have concentrated on performance horses, working cow horses, pleasure horses and trail horses.

FAIR'S HOME ECONOMICS DIVISION TO OPEN MAY 15 AT LEGION HALL

PORTERVILLE - Home economics division of the 1967 Porterville fair will open Monday, May 15, in the American Legion hall, with Mrs. John Guthrie, division chairman, stating that food and clothing entries will be accepted on that day between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Judging will get underway at 9 a.m. on May 16; modelling of clothing in a special all-cotton section is scheduled for the afternoon, with senior division modelling at 3:30 p.m., and junior division at 4 p.m.

Because of last-minute conflicts, food and clothing judging will be at the Legion hall rather than at the Porterville Women's club, as stated in the fair's premium book, Mrs. Guthrie states.

Home furnishing entries will be accepted in the main exhibit building of the fair on Wednesday, May 17, between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Mrs. Guthrie states that exhibitors - 4-H members and High School Home economics girls - will be limited to five items in each of the home economics sections. Exhibits will be moved from the Legion hall to the fair grounds prior to the opening of the fair the morning of May 18.

Winners of all-cotton awards will be presented on the fair's main stage at 8 p.m., May 19, winners of other home economics awards will be presented the evening of May 20.

Assisting Mrs. Guthrie with the home economics division are: Mesdames Mary Wilcox and Chester Griswold, clothing; Arvin Hochuli and Gordon Todd, food; and Jack Emery, home furnishings. Many 4-H leaders from throughout southern Tulare county will assist with judging.

Top awards in the home economics division are listed as: Senior food and clothing trophies presented by the Porterville Emblem club; junior food and clothing trophies by the Porterville 20-Ands; all-cotton awards, Tule River Co-operative Gins Inc.; home furnishing awards by Mesdames Guthrie and Emery. Ribbons will go from

"HISTORY OF MUSIC" IS THEME FOR PUHS SPRING CONCERT TONIGHT

PORTERVILLE - "History of Music" will be the theme of a spring concert to be presented tonight, Thursday, at 8 o'clock in the Memorial auditorium by choral groups of Porterville Union High School, under the direction of Dean Semple and John Vaznaian.

Compositions from each period of musical history will be presented, covering a space of time from the year 850 to 1965. Brief explanations of the music and period will be given.

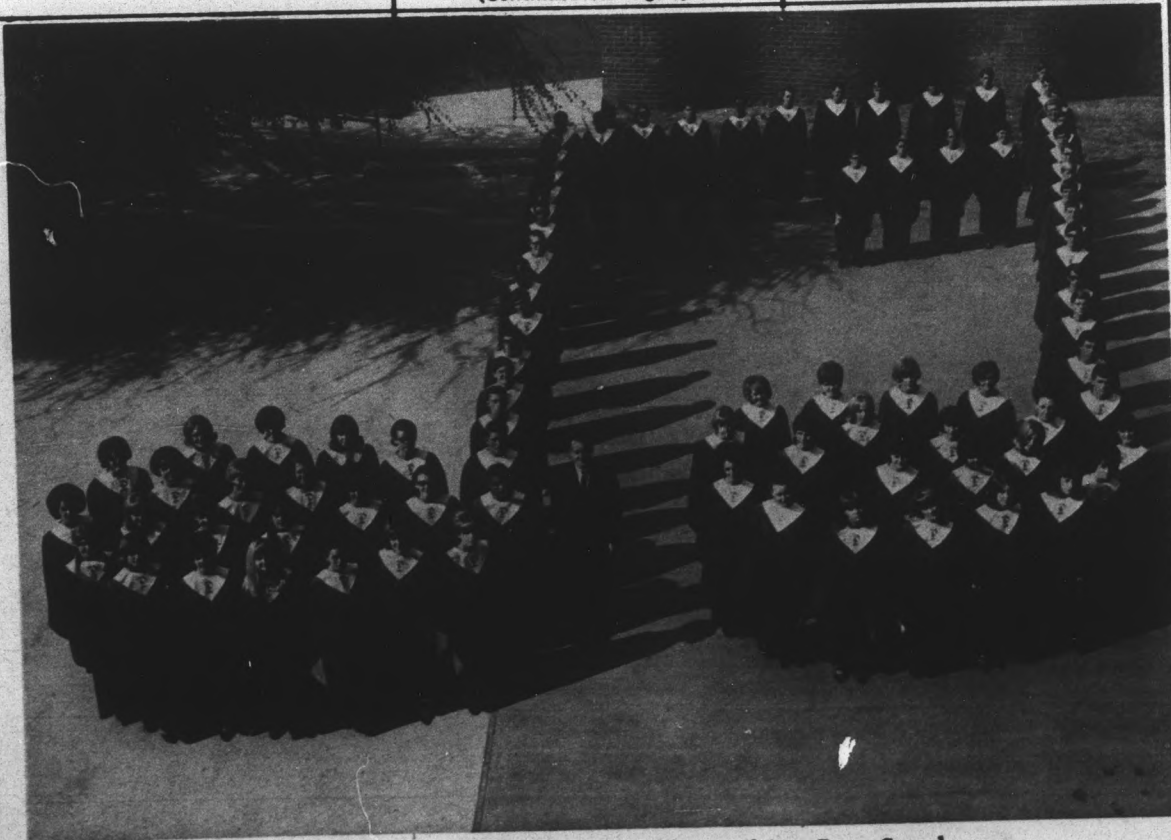

Featured choral groups in the concert will be: The Madrigal Singers, Boy's Glee club, Girls' Glee club, Girls' chorus and the Concert Choir. The groups total about 300 music students.

Concluding the evening will be the Concert choir's performance of the Chichester Psalms, by Leonard Bernstein, with harp, organ, piano and percussion accompaniment. Gary Garcia will sing the solo part.

During Easter week the choir presented this work at the Western division of the Music Educators' National conference in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Tickets for tonight's concert will be available at the box office; a 50 cent donation is requested.

"MA" POST OFFICE

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien apparently has had it. Faced with ever growing Post Office deficits and ever worsening service, he would like to quit.

Not only that, he proposes turning the 700,000-man department into a "non-profit government corporation."

Under the O'Brien proposal, the Post Office would cease to be part of the President's cabinet, would issue bonds to obtain money for new facilities, and would gain more control of its operations, including such areas as rate setting, hiring and budgeting, now controlled by Congress.

The Postmaster General's plan should receive thorough consideration. Certainly almost any change would be an improvement. But if a non-profit government corporation is a better idea than the present unwieldy set-up, how about a profit-making, investor-owned corporation? If the country had a Ma Post Office that did as efficient a job as Ma Bell, the business of mail delivery would emerge from the 19th Century with a bang.

A Sound Veto

Governor Ronald Reagan, with his long and estimable record as a driving force in motion picture labor relations can hardly be accused of antipathy toward the union idea; yet he has just vetoed a request for renewal of a federal grant of more than $100,000 to a group which helped organize farm worker unions.

The grant was from the Office of Economic Opportunity. The recipient was to have been the California Self-Help Service Corp. of Del Rey. Quite wisely, the Governor pointed out that much as he respects the right to organize and to strike, "There is no reason why the taxpayers should be forced to pay for a program in which people are trained in methods of striking and demonstrating."

The right to organize and strike is one thing. The right to be tax subsidized in those activities does not exist, and deserves veto.

Gun Law Dangers

Congress and state legislatures — including California's — will be considering in the next months a number of proposals for stricter control of the sale and possession of firearms. The arguments for them are familiar: that to cut down on gun deaths and on crimes with guns we must prohibit interstate purchase by mail and the purchase of larger, military-type weapons by any means.

Sportsmen understandably view such laws with alarm. They argue that if that first step is taken the next logical one would be the registration of all privately owned guns, to be followed by even more stringent rules until the private use of firearms for sports would for all practical purposes be embargoed. Registration would not stop crimes, they say, because today's gun distribution is so vast that even if every honest owner declared his weapon there still would be nearly half the guns in unlicensed hands. We'd probably have the same number of murders, robberies, accidents. Then what?

More regulations would seem inevitable, especially revenue producing ones such as special sales taxes or license fees. All this increasing pressure, the sportsmen say, would fall almost entirely on the good guys. The criminals would go the merry way the regulations were ostensibly designed to halt.

Porterville Fair Quarter Horse show, May 18, will feature some of the finest horses in the west.

Bring your friends, have fun at the Porterville fair.

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

SO WE start for a Farm Bureau meeting in Visalia but end up, through some clever manipulation by our wife and one Joe Doctor, at the Mountain Lion saloon where various and sundry people had a surprise party ready for us. First time it ever happened to us - and we had no idea about it... Thanks to all of you who had a hand in it and who attended. It was great. It must have been great, the way we felt the next day.

CERTAINLY WE do not condone cruelty to animals - but we fail to see anything particularly cruel in the handling of working rodeo stock - in fact a good rodeo bull or bronc leads a sort of pampered life, eight or 10 seconds of action, then his head goes into a bucket of oats until the next day, or the next weekend. Which brings us to Assembly Bill 888, which if passed, will be the first step toward elimination of the western sport of rodeo. If you want information on this bill, and on the handling of rodeo stock, write to Sandra Southard, Rt. 4, Box 245, Porterville. Then, after you inform yourself, we suggest you write to your State Assemblyman, Gordon Duffy, and tell him to do what he can to see that this proposed legislation is junked.

ABOUT THE silliest twist to current taxation proposals is the growing favor of a plan to have the federal government return tax money to the states, possibly on a basis of population, with no strings attached, and for any use the states want to make of it. It's silly because this could make the federal government a major tax collector for the states and would open the door for even greater federal taxation. If the idea is to get more tax money closer to the local level, as it should be, then why not get the federal government out of the state business that it is now in through matching fund programs, and grants, and keep the money in the states in the first place?.... It's possible that the no-strings federal tax return to states will never go through, and it is more than likely that the federal government will never get out of the business of dishing up money to states and even counties and cities, for with this federal money goes patronage and political power, and what red blooded representative in Washington would voluntarily give up those two items? Unless, of course, the people speak loudly enough in the voting booth. But even this isn't likely as long as folks have the idea that federal money is free money...So, now that we've posed the question, what's the answer...We're afraid the answer is to get ready to pay more federal taxes in 1968.

AND WE would take a much kinder attitude toward Martin Luther King if this gentleman would organize an anti-war march protesting not American military action

'VANISHING COWBOY' WILL BE AIRED SUNDAY AS TV DOCUMENTARY FILMED ON GILL RANCH NEAR MADERA

REDWOOD CITY—"The Vanishing Cowboy" will be the title of a TV special to be featured on seven California TV stations in April according to the California Beef council.

The council arranged for the filming of the half hour

TV special, which features the activities of the modern day working cowboy, with Will Gill, Jr.

Footage on the Gill ranches and feedlot in and around Madera, was used.

The star of the show is Ray Kelton an all around cowboy, one of the many on the efficient Gill spread.

TV schedule of stations seen in the San Joaquin valley for the "Vanishing Cowboy" is; Fresno, KMJ-TV, Ch 24 - 8:30 p.m., Sunday, April 23; Bakersfield, - KERO-TV, Ch 23 - 8:30 p.m., Sunday, April 23; and San Luis Obispo, KSBY-TV, Ch 6 - 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 26.

To those that think some day soon the rain will cease long enough to get a spade in the ground, we bid welcome. You can still plant shade trees, roses, fruit trees, vegetables, and started small plants. We have these canned, boxed, and otherwise preserved for your personal attention after the sun comes out.

The fruitless mulberry, Modesto ash, weeping elm, red leaf plum, and such are especially luxuriant in the moist atmosphere that prevails. They are all in prime health with a built in desire to grow and persist with a minimum of care even when summer comes. The roses are equally robust. They have soaked up so much water the aphids have drowned and the mildew can't even get started.

Most beautiful of all right now are the rhododendrons. They are the Hollywood version of the azalea done in large screen and technicolor by a craftsman out of this world. They do require a mulch worthy of their beauty and a sack of forest humus to the plant wouldn't be a sliver too much. Shade is also a necessity and an occasional washing off during our dry spells will help bolster their morale. Boost your own spirits with a trip to "E" Street north of Olive where spring is perpetual and you are always welcome to just browse around.

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

It was really a lovely soiree. The back room of the Mountain Lion was decorated in early back room motif, and the Fun Crowd of OUR TOWN was out en mess. It doesn't take much of an excuse for that crowd to dream up a party, and this excuse was delightful. A surprise party for my favorite editor. A going away party. Going away from heavy politics. Thanks to Joe and Mable Doctor it was a real surprise. OUR former Mayor was very thrilled and behaved beautifully, and the party was a huge success. John Daybell dreamed up the whole thing, and Chris Lalanne did all the phoning and planning. The good cooks in the group brought dips to go with the refreshments, and Walt Pratt brought an onion salad. It was pure onion because I danced with Kenny Richardson, and I know. "Kenny, honey, you had bad breath" Kenny wanted his name in the paper, and I couldn't think of anything else to say about him.

Of course there was music. The poor old beaten up piano in the back room had a work out. Manuel Hernandez picks fruit around here a few months of the year, and the rest of the time he is a pianist par excellence from Mexico City. He would cringe when the keys would go a little flat, but no one knew the difference. Bob Natzke and Art Thrall gave a heart rendering rendition of an old ballad with wild new words, and Hal Bradon entertained with the help of his favorite dummy, Jerry. Joe Doctor arrived with a whole tobacco pouch full of tobacco, but made the mistake of showing various friends how to roll their own. Most of the tobacco ended on the floor, and Joe was quite unhappy. Ben Lyon was the only one who could speak Spanish enough to talk to Manuel, but the rest of us dragged out our high school Spanish and made with the buenos and gracias enough to let Manuel know how much we liked his playing. One of the happiest dancers was Joe Wingo, and he cut a mean rug whenever he had a chance. All in all it was a lovely party, and Bill's Members decided to have a skating party and invite Terra Bella 4-H to attend.

Date of the project tour was changed to April 29.

friends were there to try to show him how much he means to OUR TOWN. Bill is the shy type and didn't make a speech, which was nice, but he had a happy time opening a fancy gift from Eleanor Jones. Where did she find those goodies.

Jane McKinney called the other day and told me about the fun she is having being in an opera in Fresno. "The Bartered Bride." Jane is in the chorus, made her own costume and is having a wonderful experience. The opera is at the Convention theater, and Jane hopes friends from OUR TOWN will go up and enjoy the good entertainment.

Happiness is going to a party in honor of my favorite editor.

Contributions From Parents Asked To Finance Graduation Party For Porterville High School Seniors

PORTERVILLE - The Parents' committee for the 1967 Senior Class party to be held after graduation, June 9, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slaughter to hear progress reports from the chairmen of the various committees in charge of planning for this annual event. General Chairman Marty Martin reported that permission to hold the party in the Armory building had been granted and the rent paid. There will be two game rooms, dancing, entertainment, and a buffet supper will be served continuously during the evening.

Mrs. Bob Bennett brought a report from a senior class meeting. The class has chosen as theme for the party, "Memories are Made of This." Decorations Chairman Mrs. Ed Rouch, and Band Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawson, will attend the next class meeting to discuss decorations and music.

Only about 25 percent of parents of graduating seniors have sent in donations, according to Richard Muller, finance chairman, and it is hoped that those who have not sent their half-time with F. T. Addicott on cotton abscission research.

Werkhoven and Wayne Anderson, UCD agronomist at Shafter, will work closely with USDA Cotton Research Station personnel under John H. Turner, with A. Lloyd Brown, UCD Department of Soils and Plant Nutrition, and with Bert A. Krantz, UCD Extension soils specialist.

Now working on cotton variety trial and strain testing is Dick Bassett, UCD agronomist. His program was made possible by the California Planting Cotton Seed distributors who made funds available for this aspect of cotton research.

Fertility research of the agronomy department will continue to be coordinated with the UC departments of botany, entomology, nematology and water science and engineering. These departments all have men stationed at Shafter, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's cotton research station.

Much of the early-planted cotton in the San Joaquin valley will have to be replanted because of poor germination.

Cotton planting in desert areas is virtually completed, and the crop is above ground in many fields.

Alfalfa cutting will become general in the San Joaquin valley when fields dry.

RODNEY HOMER IS SPEAKER AT SPRINGVILLE 4-H

SPRINGVILLE - Rodney Homer, of the Porterville High school vocational agriculture faculty, spoke on livestock judging, illustrating his talk with film strips, at April meeting of the Springville 4-H club.

Jackie Urmy and Denise Gililand reported on the recent Springville - Sierra rodeo, stating that the club raised considerable money in its hot dog booth; took first place with a clubfloat and second with its horse project riding group in the rodeo parade; and also cleaned up the rodeo grounds following the show.

It was reported that Theresa Rouch and Donna Gililand won top honors at the recent demonstration field day; plans were discussed for attendance at 4-H summer camp; the club lamb project group gave a demonstration on care and judging of lambs; and project reports were given by:

THE BISHOP COMPANY WILL PRESENT "DO YOU KNOW THE MILKY WAY" AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SUNDAY

PORTERVILLE - Karl Wittlinger's disturbing dramatic play "Do You Know the Milky Way?" will be presented by The Bishop's Company of Burbank, at the First Congregational church at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, April 23.

Jimmy Rossiter, John Hendren, Janet Everett, Nicki Hudson, Coult Robb, John Hanggi, Glenna Rinear, Jackie Everett, Mike Russell, Fred Hanggi, Tracy Robb and Helen Highfill.

Gerry Mitchell presided at meeting; Nicki Hudson led the flag salute; Coult Robb led the 4-H pledge; Sharon McDonald, club secretary, called the roll and read minutes; Cliff Fitton gave a treasurer's report.

California's Valencia orange crop this year is estimated at seven per cent above last year and 22 per cent above average.

"Do You Know the Milky Way?" is a powerfully revealing struggle of a man to find his true identity. He sees the world as it can be and not as it is. He is unashamed to admit to such feelings as "faith" and "fear" and to learn the potentials of both.

The plot is tense, dramatic and revealing, as returning war veteran, a patient in a psychiatric hospital, attempts to prove himself sane.

"The Bishop's Company, a touring troupe of professional actors, was founded in 1952 and is in its fifteenth year of bringing fine drama into houses of worship, colleges, universities, military bases and prisons in American and Canada. It has appeared in more than 9,000 churches of all denominations and has a touring record of more than one and one-half million miles," Phyllis Beardsley Bokar, founder-producer, said.

Bishop's Company plays are co-sponsored in

"ARE YOU sure this man isn't dead?" questions the psychiatrist of his assistant in Karl Wittlinger's exciting new play "Do You Know the Milky Way?" to be presented by the internationally known Bishop's Company on Sunday, April 23 at 7:30 p.m. at First Congregational Church in Porterville. Meanwhile, the very much alive "patient" has entered through a seventh story window and moves the delicate, yet explosive drama to its inspiring conclusion.

MEMBERS OF the Porterville Women's club had good intentions a couple of weeks ago about planting vari-colored petunias on "boot hill" at the Porterville city hall, but the rains came, and have continued to come, so no actual planting has been done as yet. However, women - and some of the city dignitaries - did get together to officially launch the project, with top photo showing from left: Mrs. Earl J. Hazelton, from Orland, chairman of Community Improvement and Leadership development for the California Federation of Women's clubs, who was in Porterville to speak to the Porterville Women's club; Josephine Witt, Jaunita Blubaugh, Edith Helen Zalud, Maxine Hodgson, Ethel Prestage, Madia Hodgson, Gertrude Elledge, Gertrude Moore, Jean Eckard, and Peg Cole. In lower photo the men are obviously saying, "Let the women do the work," as Mrs. Hazelton offers them a shovel; from left: Nap Easterbrook, Fran Torigian, Mac Williams, Ben Cole, Frank Kidder, Don Frary, and Roy Pederson. Incidentally, the shrubbery that spells out "Porterville" is growing very well, and with a little bit of spring weather that will allow the planned planting, "boot hill" will take on some of its former color.

BILL PROVIDES FUNDS TO FIGHT
PINK BOLLWORM

SACRAMENTO - The California State legislature has taken the first step in the battle on the dreaded pink bollworm as asked by the Western Cotton Growers Assn., the California Farm Bureau Federation, and the Agricultural Council of California, when the Assembly Agriculture committee passed without opposition either from the committee or from the floor AB 800.

This bill provides for a 50¢ per bale tax for growers to be matched by a similar amount from the state. The state will then ask for money to match these two amounts from the Federal government, thus providing a $2 million fund, or three public dollars for every grower dollar.

Three amendments were adopted: 1) that the bill be limited to a four year period; 2) that the Cotton

The Bolex SM-8 projector for Super-8 film does things most other projectors can't. It talks. It makes home talkies out of your home movies. Like the shots you took on your Caribbean cruise... how about some calypso music in the background? Or your talkative mynah bird... wouldn't he sound as colorful as he looks on film? Or Uncle Fred's attempt to bring back vaudeville...you can capture it all simply by pressing a button. Home talkies, Bolex style.

That's something to shout about.

School Tax Is Continued

PORTERVILLE —
Voters, Tuesday, said
"yes" to continuation of a 50-cent override tax for operation of the Porterville Union High School district
by a margin of 1620-659, and returned Ted Cornell and Gordon Todd, who were unopposed, to the school board.

In the Porterville Elementary district, incumbent Phyllis Wall was given a second term, with 1,064 votes; Ralph Aldridge, with 1,142 votes, replaced Pete Ferguson, who was not a candidate for reelection;
Clyde Ferrell polled 420
votes; and Brian Caston, 213 votes.

THE INDIVIDUAL (Continued From Page 1)

Oren O'Neill, Porterville attorney and public defender in Tulare county;
Claude Perasso, specialist in criminal law from the public defender's office,
City and County of San Francisco; and Miles Rubin, senior assistant attorney general, State of California.

Two programs are scheduled for the Porterville Memorial auditorium, at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., and an evening program at the Porterville College theater, at 8 o'clock.

The symposium will be concerned with the conflicts that exist between the protection of society and the rights of the individual;
the implications of the recent Supreme Court decisions involving constitutional rights; and the legal processes.

ROADS AND TRAILS MAY NOT BE OPEN

PORTERVILLE — Although roads and trails in Sequoia National forest are being repaired from damage suffered in the December floods, some may not be open in time for trout season opening April 29.
In fact some may not be opened all summer. If going into the forest, it is wise to check with ranger station personnel your destination.

SHOWN WITH some of the trophies that their fine Quarter horses have won are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris, who will ride as Grand Marshals of the Porterville Rodeo Western parade May 6. In back are portraits of Paul and Eva, painted by the late Till Goodan.

GRAND MARSHALS

Perhaps the peak for Mr. and Mrs. Morris in the showing of their horses was reached in 1964 when they were high point exhibitors at the Pacific Coast Quarter Horse show in the Cow Palace at San Francisco.

With 1,200 horses entered, this was the biggest Quarter horse show, up to that time, ever held in the United States.

Last year the Morris ranch had grand champion and reserve champion mares at the Porterville Fair Quarter Horse show; also, in 1966, the ranch showed grand champion and reserve champion mares at the Lancaster fair, and grand champion mare at the Kern County fair in Bakersfield.

In addition, many produce of dam and get of sire awards have gone to the Morris ranch, and Quarter horses of Morris ranch breeding are winning blue and purple ribbons for their owners up and down the west coast.

Concentrating on quality, the Morris's sell only eight or 10 head of Quarter horses each year, all of them permanent registered.

Paul Morris was born in Missouri and came to Porterville in 1908 with his family, the Henry A. Morris's. He attended Porterville schools; as a boy he worked at Claibes Pharmacy; and for 11 years he was employed by the Spalding Lumber company.

For the past 37 years,

SNOWPACKS INDICATE 150 PER CENT OF NORMAL RUNOFF THIS YEAR

VISALIA - While record heavy rainfall has caused delays in crop planting and damage to some vegetable crops, it has also brought huge benefits in badly needed irrigation water.

Snowpacks indicate that over 150% of normal water runoff will be available to Central California ranchers this summer. Every effort should be made to put as much of this excess water into the underground storage as possible. If water is not put into the underground basin, it will flow out of the valley into the ocean and be lost.

The natural rocky spreading basins that occur in Southern California do not occur in Center California. Due to this fact, ranchers and irrigation districts must cooperate to use every available site to spread on. Old pits and idle land are excellent areas to hold water on until it seeps into the underground.

Several Irrigation Districts are making this water available to ranchers and will continue to do so for the next two or three months. This water not only is being put into the "bank" for future withdrawal but it also helps to leach undesirable salts below the root zone.

Growers who are contemplating soil reclamation projects, should use this readily available water to implement their reclamation program. All successful reclamation projects depend on leaching harmful salts below the root zone.

Growers who have questions regarding the most effective reclamation programs should contact Richard Schade, Tulare County Soils and Water Farm Advisor, P.O. Box 990, Visalia 93277 or by calling 734-7481.

Scicon Barbecue, Flower Festival Set April 30

SPRINGVILLE - The Annual Scicon barbecue will be held at the Clemmie Gill School of Science and Conservation near Springville, Sunday, April 30, from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m.; a delicious meal of barbecue beef, beans, salad, rolls, coffee, milk, and ice cream will be served.

The price of tickets is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12. Tickets may be purchased at any elementary school in Tulare county or at Scicon on April 30.

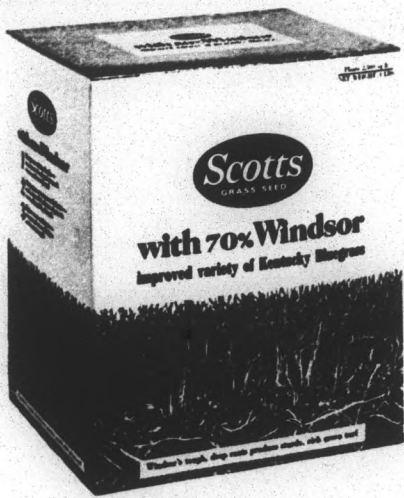

In addition to a fine meal, visitors will find a Wild Flower Festival in progress. Nature walks are invited along beautiful Bear creek, and into the fields and hills surrounding the 3000 foot level headquarters.

American, the Pacific Coast, and the San Joaquin Quarter horse associations, the Palomino Horse association, and the California Wool Growers association.

The Morris's were married in 1930. They have two daughters and one son, all living in Porterville; also seven grand children.

JONES HARDWARE CO.

We've got it!

a California grass lawn that is

-green in summer
-green in winter

Now, at last, you can enjoy a true grass lawn that flourishes in summer sun and winter chill. It's WINDSOR, the new improved variety of Kentucky bluegrass. WINDSOR is greener and sturdier on top because its roots are tougher and deeper below. It wears like iron but feels like velvet. Grows so tightly it keeps weeds in check. Ask for Scott's WINDSOR blend.
